

Feeling scared and terrified,
Sprinting out onto the horrific battlefield.

My heart was beating very fast!

Heart beating as fast as a cheetah, I began to feel weak.

Running in fear.

Bombs CRASHing down.

Horried, the children ran from the bombs.

In fear of dying, soldiers crouch down behind cover.

Lurching in fear, running as the bombs CRASH!

Dying, the soldier crawled across the floor.

They were petrified!

Terrified, the children ran to their grandad.

Shocked, the children cuddled up as he saved them.

At least we have each other...
